

KEEP THE KIDNEYS WELL

Health Is Worth Saving, and Some Okolona People Know How to Save It.

Many Okolona people take their lives in their hands by neglecting the kidneys when they know these organs need help. Sick kidneys are responsible for a vast amount of suffering and ill health, but there is no need to suffer nor to remain in danger when all diseases and aches and pains due to weak kidneys can be quickly and permanently cured by the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. Here is an Okolona citizen's recommendation.

W. J. Murphree, city marshal Main St., Okolona, Miss., says: "I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills as the best medicine to be had for the kidneys. They not only regulated the passages of the kidney secretions, but greatly improved my health. I shall be glad at any time to answer any questions regarding the merits of Doan's Kidney Pills."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Thompson, deceased. Said Bank Stock is sold for the purpose of partitioning among the owners in accordance with the decree of said Court. L. B. Thompson, Administrator.

This the 14th day of Oct. 1912

A Sure Remedy For Lazy Liver

Go to Bearden & King for This Safe, Reliable Remedy and Get Your Money Back if it Fails

There are very few remedies that gain the confidence of druggists as Dodson's Liver Tonic does. Bearden & King sells it and backs up the sale of every bottle with the money back guarantee that the price will be refunded if it fails to give complete satisfaction.

Dodson's Liver Tonic costs 50 cents a bottle. It is the safest and best remedy for torpid liver, constipation, biliousness, etc., that has ever been sold in this city. It takes the place of dangerous calomel and does not lay you up as a dose of calomel often does. A bottle in the house is as good as fifty cents in the bank. If you or your family need a liver tonic you have the medicine ready. If it fails you get your money back.

Be sure you get Dodson's Liver Tonic when you ask for it. There are imitations of it that may disappoint you.

OKOLONA, MISS., OCT. 31 1912

For Congress

We are authorized to announce the HON. T. U. Sisson for re-election to Congress from this the Fourth District of Mississippi, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We have several photographs sent us by The Luther Burbank Society, of Santa Rosa, Cal., taken by a new color process which is said to make a picture giving every color, shade and tint of the object taken.

A new and novel point was raised in the circuit court here this week it seems that the Board of Supervisors at their January meeting replenished the jury boxes for both the first and second districts. It was claimed that because the names were selected in Houston instead of at Okolona the whole were illegal. This contention seems to be far fetched and out of place in a court of justice. There is no excuse for lawyers raising such points and running the county to expenses. Many proceedings of a like unimportant nature disgust the body of the people and cause them to lose respect for and confidence in the courts.

HUNTERS, TAKE NOTICE

This is to give notice that the Board of Supervisors of Chickasaw County have passed and so amended the State law that it will be unlawful to kill, trap, or in any way destroy any game bird or animal protected by the law of the State before the first day of December, 1912 or after the first day of March, 1913. The Deputy Wardens throughout Chickasaw County are expected to be diligent in enforcing the law as passed by the Board of Supervisors.

For Women Who Care

Of course you use an antiseptic in your family and in the care of your own person, and you want the best. Instead of what you have been using such as liquid or tablet antiseptics or peroxide, won't you please try Paxtine, a concentrated antiseptic powder to be dissolved in water as needed. Paxtine is more economical, more cleansing, more germicidal and more healing than anything you ever used.

Paxtine
ANTISEPTIC

In the toilet—to cleanse and whiten the teeth, remove tartar and prevent decay. To disinfect the mouth, destroy disease germs, and purify the breath. To keep artificial teeth and breathers clean and odorless. To remove mucus from the teeth and purify the throat after smoking. To eradicate perspiration odors by sponge bathing.

As a medicinal agent for local treatment of feminine ills where pelvic catarrh, inflammation and ulceration exist, nothing equals hot douche of Paxtine. For ten years the Lydia E. Pinkham Med. Co. has been regularly advising their patients to use it because of its extraordinary cleansing, healing, and germicidal power. For this purpose alone Paxtine is worth its weight in gold. Also for nasal catarrh, sore throat, inflamed eyes, cuts and wounds. All druggists, 25 and 50 cents a box. Trial box and testimony of 32 women free on request.

Hatpin Caused Death.
A simple hatpin caused the death of its wearer in Paris the other morning near the Alma Bridge. A young woman slipped as she alighted from a tramcar and fell. The hatpin was dislodged, and by some extraordinary chance was driven right through the unlucky woman's scalp. Death was instantaneous.

WHY THEY WANTED A BANK HIS ESCAPE FROM PRISON

Matter of Convenience That Led to Demand for Establishment of Financial Institution.

Harry L. Conter, chief clerk in the bank department in the office of the auditor of state, spent an hour a few days ago trying to convince a budding financier that the ordinary village in Indiana cannot support more than one bank properly, and that demands for second banks in such places could usually be traced to some purpose other than legitimate banking.

"When I was in a bank in Elkhart," he said, "I was approached one afternoon by a small merchant on the South side, who asked if our bank wouldn't consider a proposal to establish a branch in his part of the city. I told him that under the new law we were not permitted to establish branches, and asked him why he was anxious to have a bank in his neighborhood, where there were only small shops and good banks within a dozen blocks."

"We fellows down there sometimes have a lot of trouble about getting change," he replied, "and we thought if we could have a bank down there, it would be handy."—Indianapolis News.

NEW KIND OF RAILROAD HOG

He Attempts to Keep Two Seats So As to Be on Shady Side of Car.

A man who frequently uses the interurban cars out of Indianapolis reports a new kind of railroad hog. "I boarded the car at the Denison hotel corner," he said, "and noticed there was only one seat outside the smoking compartment not occupied by some person, and it had in it a large suit case. In the aisle directly across from the suit case was a fat man who evidently did not belong to this part of the country and was unacquainted with the geography."

"I moved the suit case to the aisle and took the seat. After we had left the city and started across the country the fat man scowled at me, picked up the suit case and, going into the smoker, sat down in a vacant seat on the same side of the car where I was sitting, the shady side."

Evidently he had tried to make sure of two seats, so as to be able to select the one on the shady side after the car had started on its cross-country route, but my removal of his suit case had spoiled his plan."

ALONG CLASSIC LINES.

One of the most perfect types of classic buildings in America, according to architects, has been built by the United States government at Denver, Colo., to be used as a post office and to house the various federal offices in that city with the exception of the mint, says Popular Mechanics. The building is of pure white marble from Colorado quarries and is 310 feet long by 180 feet deep and four stories in height. The style is a type of Roman architecture adapted to modern conditions, and the facades are regarded as notable in the faithfulness of their classic lines. On each of the longer sides there are sixteen massive columns, and on the shorter sides six columns. Symbolic statuary is used in groups and in single figures to relieve the building of the severity of its general outlines, the entire structure giving an idea of simple beauty that makes it a striking example of public building architecture.

PLEA FOR COUNTRY LIFE.

In an address on "City Congestion and Farm Desolation," the Rev. Dr. Joseph Krauskopf of Philadelphia makes a strong plea for the National Farm school, near Philadelphia, of which he is president. Pastoral pursuits, he says, are potent remedies against the evils which grow out of congestion in the parts of the cities into which foreign immigrants drift. The resources of the farm school are limited, the dormitories accommodating only eighty-five students, and for the purpose of enlarging the institution and increasing its activities Dr. Krauskopf asks all who are interested to become members.

MOUTHPIECES.

"I object to the use of dummy directors who do simply what they are told."

"Well," replied Mr. Dustin Stax, "I don't know that a dummy director is any more helpless as a personal quantity than an instructed delegate member of an electoral college."

Prince Krapotkin's Release in Russia Was Ingeniously Concealed and Carried Out.

In originality of conception and ingenuity of execution, the escape of Prince Krapotkin from the prison of the Nikolaevsk Military hospital in St. Petersburg in 1876 probably is unparalleled in prison annals. Twelve conspirators outside the prison took part in it, but not one of them was ever arrested or suspected, although many of them were subsequently banished to Siberia for other political offenses.

The escape was made in broad daylight, about five o'clock in the afternoon, in the presence of three armed soldiers, and with such novel accessories as cherries, opera hats, a louse, music, a black mare and a microscope. The chances were at least ten to one that it would fail, notwithstanding the extraordinary ingenuity with which it was planned, but every device and strategem worked perfectly, and the liberated prisoner dined that night in Donon's restaurant, the most fashionable in St. Petersburg, while the entire police of the capital were ransacking the city in search of him.

Nobody even imagined that he would be shrewd and bold enough to take his dinner in so public a place, and not a single detective looked for him there, although search was made in scores of other places, and every exit from the city was so carefully guarded that a mouse could hardly have crept through unobserved.—George Kennan, in Century magazine.

DEFINITION OF A BLIZZARD.

Every scholar was wearing his best clothes, and every face was beaming brightly. And the teacher's eyes watched grimly lest one small slip should spoil the record of her class, for it was the annual inspection, and the fierce looking man who called himself inspector was putting the pupils through their paces. "Now, boys," he called, "I want you to tell me what is a blizzard." Silence reigned. "What is a blizzard?" demanded the ferocious one. And still silence reigned. The teacher glanced at the top boy, then nodded to encourage him, and at last there came a look of pleading in her eyes. Almost she wept. Slowly the top boy's hand went up. "Yes?" snapped the inspector. "Go on. Tell me what is a blizzard?" "P-please, sir," stammered the youthful encyclopedia, "it's the inside of a hen!"

THE TASK AT HAND.

The late Clara Barton, head of the American Red Cross, was a Christian in perhaps the best sense—the practical and unselfish sense. Miss Barton, in an interview in New York about the tenement-house laws, once said to a reporter: "I neglect church, I neglect religion, to get our vile and unwholesome slums all swept away." She paused, then added: "We ought not to consider the mansions awaiting us on the other side of Jordan, you know, while there's an unsolved housing problem so near home."

HE CAN'T SAY IT.

Biggs—I see that a lot of convicts in a state penitentiary have struck because they don't like the food.

Diggs—Yes, and it's awfully hard on the warden.

"What is?"
"Why, the fact that he can't say to the kaiser: 'If you don't like the food, get out!'"

Stubborn Case

"I was under the treatment of two doctors," writes Mrs. R. L. Phillips, of Indian Valley, Va., "and they pronounced my case a very stubborn one, of womanly weakness. I was not able to sit up, when I commenced to take Cardui.

I used it about one week, before I saw much change. Now, the severe pain, that had been in my side for years, has gone, and I don't suffer at all. I am feeling better than in a long time, and cannot speak too highly of Cardui."

TAKE CARDUI The Woman's Tonic

if you are one of those ailing women who suffer from any of the troubles so common to women.

Cardui is a builder of womanly strength. Composed of purely vegetable ingredients, it acts quickly on the womanly system, building up womanly strength, toning up the womanly nerves, and regulating the womanly system. Cardui has been in successful use for more than 50 years. Thousands of ladies have written to tell of the benefit they received from it. Try it for your troubles. Begin today.

Rash Answer.

A student at a medical college was under examination. The instructor asked him: "Of what cause, specifically, did the people die who lost their lives at the destruction of Herculaneum and Pompeii?" "I think they died of an eruption, sir," answered the student.

Greater Things in Promise.

All the world is heavy with the promise of greater things, and a day will come—one day in the unending succession of days—when beings, beings who are now latent in our thoughts and hidden in our loins, will stand upon this earth as one stands upon a footstool, and laugh and reach out their hands amidst the stars.—H. G. Wells.

ALL ACTIVE.

Don't be a clam, my son; but if an old friend comes to you and asks for the loan of $5 until Saturday night, just close your shell for repairs. It may look rude, but under some circumstances it is better to leave than to be left.

Cromwell's Many Nicknames.

Few men have been more labeled with nicknames than Oliver Cromwell, many of them, to say the least, uncomplimentary ones, which can scarcely be wondered at when party feeling ran so high. "Old Noll," "Copper Face," the "Brewer," are familiar examples.
